

The KECSAC Central Office is following guidelines set by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention \(CDC\), World Health Organization \(WHO\), and the Kentucky Department for Public Health, as well as direction from Eastern Kentucky University and moving into remote operations. The safety and health of our students, employees, and state agency partners is our utmost priority, which is why KECSAC staff will be practicing social distancing and working remotely through at least April 13.

Staff will continue to carry out duties and responsibilities remotely as effectively as possible during regular business hours. During this time, email remains the best way to reach us and we appreciate your understanding, as there may be delays in our responses.

All face-to-face committee, board meetings, program improvement site visits, and in-person professional development have also been canceled through the end of the regularly scheduled school semester. If you are scheduled to attend an in-person meeting or have a previously scheduled site visit, you will be contacted by one of our staff members about other arrangements.

Stay tuned via email and our website for the latest updates, as policies may change. You may also find valuable educational resources linked on our website as well as additional guidance for scheduling, teaching remotely, and other pertinent guidance. Thank you for your dedication, commitment, and patience as KECSAC plays its part in keeping our community healthy.

For additional information and resources on COVID-19 for KECSAC affiliated programs, please see our guidance for KECSAC programs.
